Jury Statement:

The real estate management agency Vermögen und Bau Baden-Württemberg, which is responsible for the new construction of the Children's and Youth Clinic in Freiburg, shows how a public authority can pave the way for patient-oriented, healing, social and sustainable architecture. The centre was planned and realised by ARGE Health Team Vienna, a consortium of the two architectural firms Albert Wimmer ZT and Architects Collective ZT from Vienna. The spatial planning is commendable, with simple orientation and open, inviting meeting spaces that give young patients a feeling of lingering rather than waiting. Natural materials, art, a harmonious colour scheme, green roofs and terraces all contribute to recovery and well-being.
